Life Cycle Assessment Simplified

An LCA Platform Designed for You

The Life Cycle Assessments (LCA) produced by your company represent critical information about the transportation fuels you produce. Whether you are completing an LCA for regulatory and compliance purposes, for internal reporting, or to gain visibility into your supply chain, it is important to have a platform that manages your data with accuracy, security, and in a way that represents your company in a positive way. The fuels you produce are the lifeblood of your company.

Your company needs a solution that scales. With ever changing requirements around regulatory compliance, changes to energy and feedstock inputs, and plant improvements, keeping LCA's up to date and accurate has become a challenge. Further complicating the process are varying regulatory agencies that each ask for a different method for calculating carbon intensity. Spreadsheets lack change control and are complicated. The answer is P6, a software company delivering an LCA platform that is designed for you.
